Clefs and the Grand Staff

A clef is a symbol at the start of a staff that fixes the letter name of one line. Once one line is named, every other line and space follows in alphabetical order.

The treble clef, also called the G clef, curls around the second line of the staff. That line is the G above middle C: G4. Treble clef line notes, bottom to top, are E G B D F; space notes are F A C E.

G4: the second line

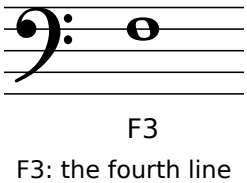

Line notes

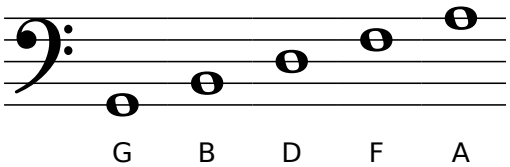

Space notes

The bass clef, also called the F clef, has two dots: one above and one below the fourth line. That line is the F below middle C: F3. Bass clef line notes, bottom to top, are G B D F A; space notes are A C E G.

F3: the fourth line

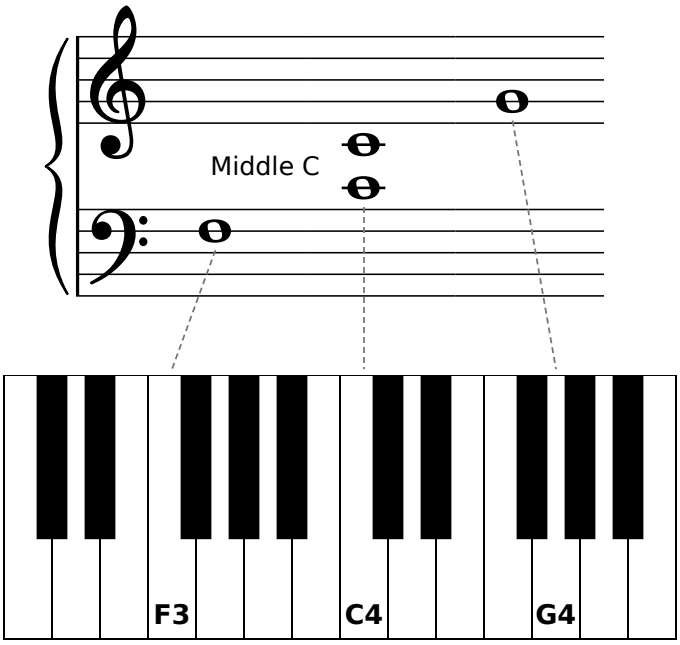

Line notes

Space notes

The grand staff is a treble staff and a bass staff joined at the left by a line and a brace, the curved bracket. Piano music is written on the grand staff. Middle C sits between the two staves and can be written from either staff. The dashed lines below connect each note to its key.

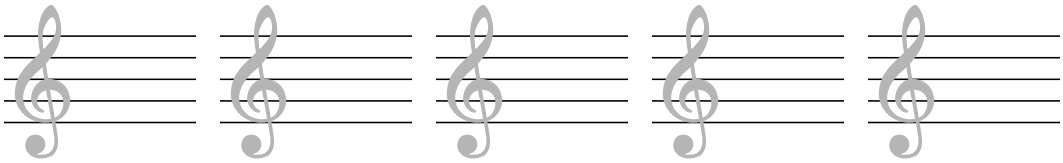

F3 (bass clef line 4), middle C (written from both staves), and G4 (treble clef line 2).

© 2026 Matthew Menard. All rights reserved.

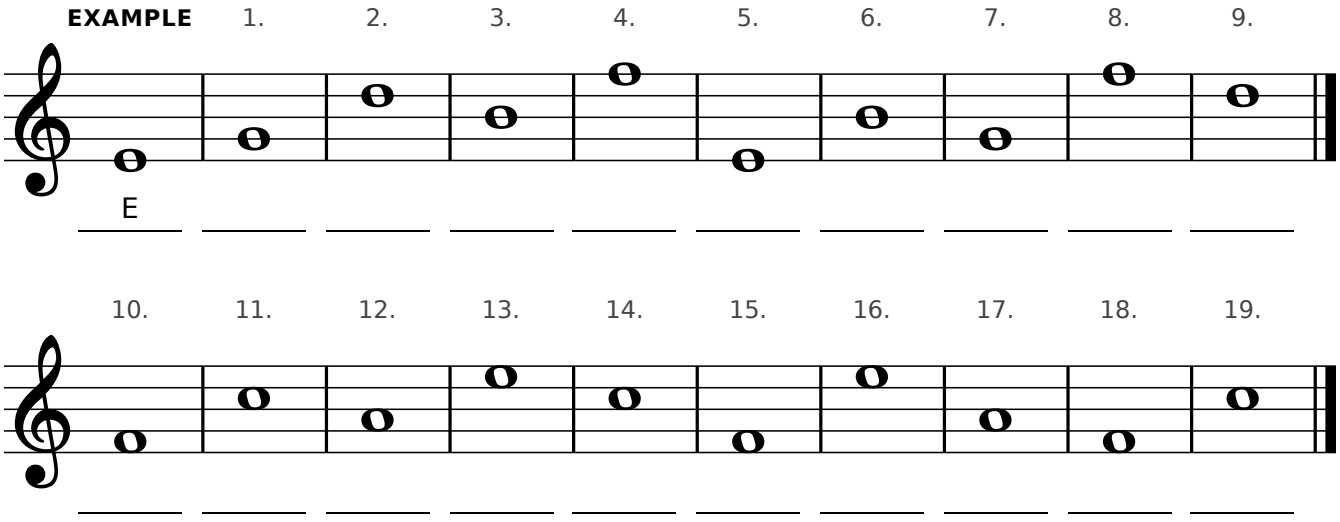

Name _____ Date _____

Treble Clef

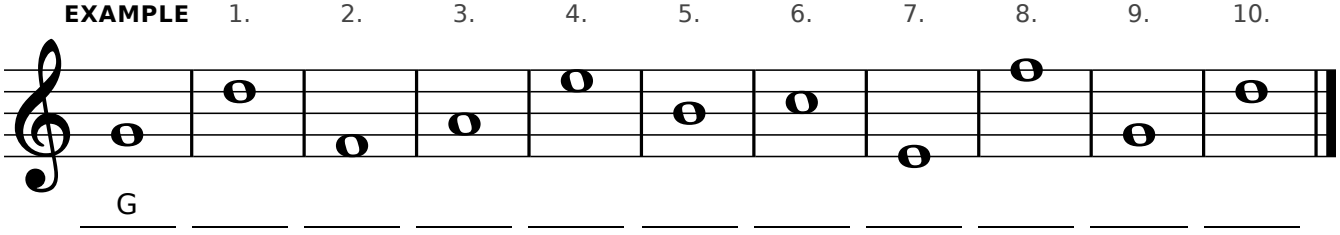

A. Draw treble clefs Trace each grey clef, then draw five treble clefs of your own on the empty staff.

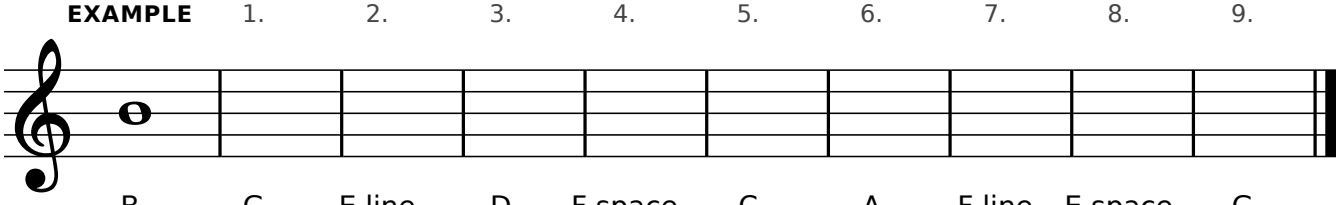

B. Line notes and space notes Write the letter name of each note on the line below it.

C. Mixed notes Write the letter name of each note.

D. Write the notes Write each note as a whole note. Where a letter fits in two places, the word line or space tells you which.

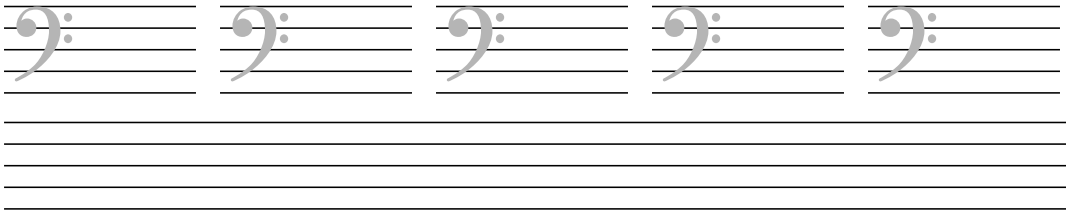

© 2026 Matthew Menard. All rights reserved.

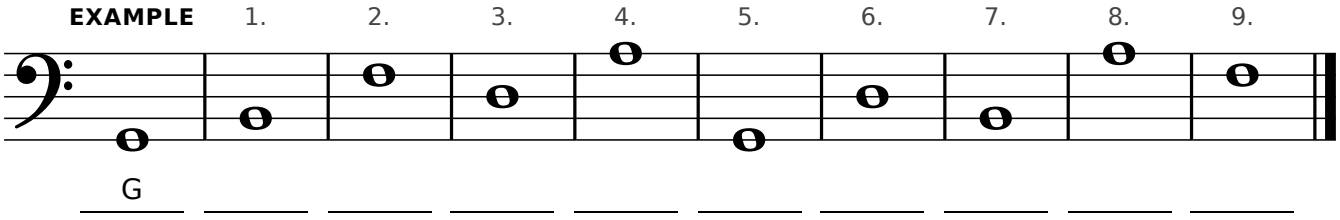

Name _____ Date _____

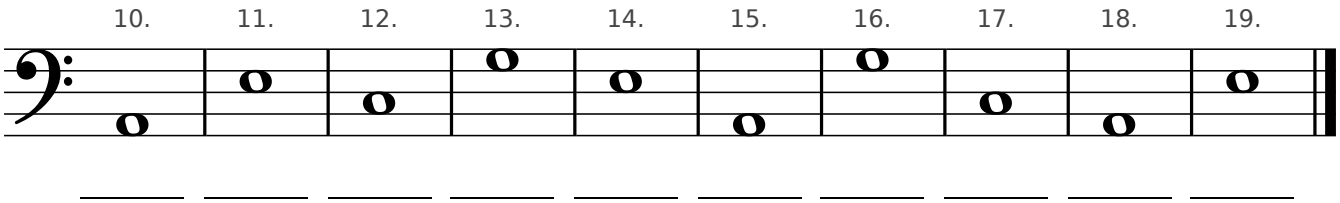

Bass Clef

A. Draw bass clefs Trace each grey clef, then draw five bass clefs of your own on the empty staff.

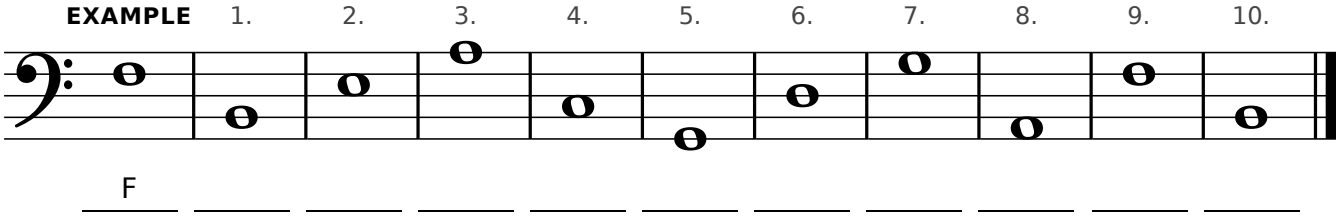

B. Line notes and space notes Write the letter name of each note on the line below it.

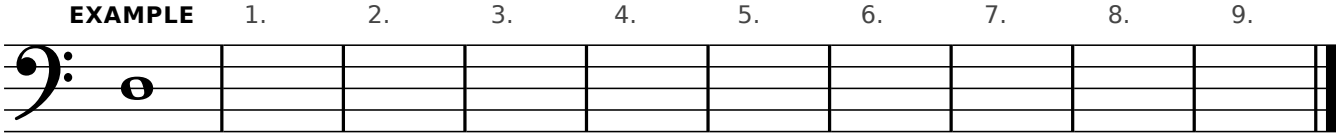

C. Mixed notes Write the letter name of each note.

D. Write the notes Write each note as a whole note. Where a letter fits in two places, the word line or space tells you which.

D B G line C A space F E G space A line D

© 2026 Matthew Menard. All rights reserved.